Chicago Style 17th Edition - Style & Block Quotes

The Chicago style uses two methods for citing resources. The Notes and Bibliography method uses numbered footnotes or end notes to cite resources and usually a corresponding bibliography at the end of the paper. The Author-Date method uses in-text parenthetical references and a corresponding Reference List. You should check with your instructor or class syllabus to determine which method to use.

Block Quotes

• Quotes that are longer than 100 or more words, single spaced, do not use quotation marks, indented half an inch, and can use colons to be introduced.

12

In "The Sisters," the first story in Dubliners, Joyce describes the young protagonist as being haunted by the face of the deceased Father Flynn:

Single spacing

Indent 1/2"

In the dark of my room I imagined that I saw the heavy grey face of the paralytic. I drew the blankets over my head and tried to think of Christmas. But the grey face still followed me. It murmured; and I understood that it desired to confess something. I felt my soul receding into some pleasant and vicious region; and there again I found it waiting for me. It began to confess to me in a murmuring voice and I wondered why it smiled continually and why the lips were so moist with spittle. But then I remembered that it had died of paralysis and I felt that I too was smiling feebly as if to absolve the simoniac of his sin.

Quotations

- All quoted materials must be followed by a footnote.
- Quote less than 5 lines: incorporate it into a sentence. Enclose the quoted material in double quotation marks "". Place the superscript number at the end of the sentence or quotation.
- Example: Kim and Koh's investigation into the relationship between smartphone obsession and self-esteem suggested that "individuals with low self-esteem may feel more anxious, and being anxious can increase one's obsession with smartphone use."

Chicago Style 17th Edition - Footnotes & Endnotes

Footnotes & Endnotes

- Insert a footnote or an endnote when you use a direct quote, paraphrase information, or need to add further explanation to your text. Check with your discipline to see if footnotes or endnotes are preferred.
- To create a footnote or endnote, use a superscript. Number your notes sequentially throughout the entire paper, and match the citation to the corresponding number in the footnote/endnote location.

Footnotes

• Footnotes are placed in the footer section of each page. Single-spaced.

Endnotes

• Endnotes are placed in a separate piece of paper directly following your text but before your bibliography. Single-spaced.

Endnotes Example

Including sources in your text should be done "through quotation, paraphrasing, summarising, analysis, interpretation, discussion and evaluation of sources."²

When citing sources in your text, "make sure they are placed where they belong." The footnote number should be placed at the end of a sentence or phrase, after a quotation.

A reference list provides the full details of sources at the end of your assignment.⁴ Every source cited should be in your reference list, and vice versa.⁵

A referencing style is a set of formatting rules for citations and reference lists. $^{\rm 6}$
